ADOL's Website Has a New, Fresh Look

MONTGOMERY – The Alabama Department of Labor recently remodeled its website, creating an updated, more user-friendly experience for its customers.

The new website, located at www.labor.alabama.gov, has a new, clean look that allows users to more easily find services they are looking for. All applications accessed on the old website are still available with no changes and all previously saved bookmarks will still work.

Services and features available online include:

- Filing and certifying unemployment compensation claims
- Registering for the state's free online jobs database, www.joblink.alabama.gov
- Search thousands of job listings
- Veterans Services
- On-the-Job Training Information
- Career Center Information
- Labor Market Information

Additionally, employers can do the following online:

- File and pay unemployment insurance taxes
- File New Hire Reports
- Obtain Child Labor certificates
- Obtain required Labor Law posters

“We’re excited to present this new look to our jobseekers and employers,” said Labor Secretary Fitzgerald Washington. “We want to make doing business with ADOL as easy as possible, and we hope that this new site accomplishes that. Please come and check us out and see how we can help you!”
